THE HUDSON'S BAY COMPANY SWINDLE.—A correspondent writing from Olympia, alluding to the enormous sham claim of the Hudson's Bay Company against the United States, says:—"The idea of the Hudson's Bay Company professing such a claim against the United States Government for their old adobe forts &c., that were all used up and destroyed long before the expiration of their charter, is certainly one of the boldest, most brazen-faced pieces of villainy ever attempted by any set of men. Yet the Copperheads, true to their treasonable instincts, are lending their united aid to this damnable swindle. But it is some comfort to know that W. C. Johnson, Esq., of Oregon City, Attorney for the United States, in taking the testimony of these loyal (?) Americans in favor of the Hudson's Bay Company and against their Government, is as true as steel, and altogether too shrewd for Her Britanic Majesty's tools. He is playing the deuce with their own witnesses,—obtaining from them a sufficiency of testimony to almost entirely obliterate their claims. The chief counsel of the company was so very suspicious of the character of the Copperheads on whom he depended for success, that he would not allow them to swear on American soil, but took them to Victoria so as to have them surrounded by a "British atmosphere,"—to use his own language, and after this extra bill of expense, amounting to one thousand five hundred dollars, he has the cheek to ask Mr. Johnson to endorse it as a part of the "necessary expenses," and which would be assessed against the United States, to which Mr. Johnson entered a solemn protest informing Her Majesty's subjects that he was ready to go anywhere to take evidence, but not ready to tax his Government to convey American citizens to a foreign city to testify against their own Government. All honor to the integrity and ability of our Attorney. The friends of the United States Government need feel no apprehensions as to the final result of this grand trial." Those Copperheads would not mind loading two or three millions more debt upon the United States Government.

Just as we are going to press we are in receipt of a letter from an early settler of this country who says that the "Puget Sound Agricultural Company" was organized and conducted by British subjects wholly as an opposition to the "Willamette Cattle Company," of the Willamette valley, which was organized and instituted by Mr. Lee, an American citizen, encouraged by Mr. Slocum of the United States Navy and reluctantly favored by the late Dr. McLaughlin; that Dr. McLaughlin stated the matter in that form and that such facts can be proven by testimony of Solomon H. Smith, Robert Shortess, and W. H. Gray, all now living in this country. Our correspondent further says he hopes the Commissioners will not close their taking testimony till that of Smith, Shortess and Gray is taken. We have thought it but proper to add this much ere closing the subject.—Astoria Gazette.

A FAMILY GATHERING.—Newbury, Vt., is one of the many pleasant villages in the Connecticut river valley. Here, during the past week, Mr. and Mrs. William Atkinson have welcomed home again all their surviving children. Two sons and one daughter come from Illinois, one son comes from Oregon, and two sons reside in Newbury. Two sons died after attaining to positions of honor and usefulness. Mr. and Mrs. Atkinson are 88 and 82 years old, and celebrated their "diamond wedding" one year ago last April. As children, and grandchildren, and one great-grandchild, nearly thirty in number gathered around them; it reminded one of the Bible pictures of the patriarchal age, and bore witness to New England piety and purity. It is rare to see in the aged such vigor of mind, such cheerfulness and such sympathy with the young. Grandparents and grandchildren were companions, and all enjoyed the peculiar blessings from God in their happy meeting.

Thirty-seven years ago their eight children were with them. Now in the sixty second year since their marriage, these venerable parents are permitted to see six of their children. Such family reunions are rare, and yet worth all the effort and long journeys [illegible].—Springfield (Mass.) Republican.

WELL-SETTLED OPINION.—It is stated that Robert Taylor, late Register of the Confederate Treasury, publishes the opinion that there are circumstances in the present state of general and national politics, which make it positively necessary that those citizens who were prominently identified with the cause of the Confederacy should exercise a rigid political abstinence at this time. No doubt, a strict abstinence would be beneficial to them, seeing what a condition of over-indulgence in politics has brought them to. Total political abstinence might not injure several who were not so "prominently identified."

THE CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD.—The land grant for the Central Pacific railroad is now under examination at the Land Office, preparatory to an early issue of the patent therefor. The Land Commissioner is informed that the above route is in complete running order from the city of San Francisco to Clipper Gap, or New England Mills, and is equipped with 167 cars and 8 locomotives. Upon the unfinished part of the road there is a force of 2,500 men employed, of which number quite a proportion are Chinese, who are found to be effective operatives.—N. Y. Herald, Aug. 3d.

The lime shipments from Sacramento to San Francisco are said by the Union to average 3,000 barrels per month. The lime is procured from Placer county, a few miles from the railroad.

The Daily Oregonian.

SATURDAY, [illegible] SEPTEMBER 23, 1865

Defeat of the British Copperheads

[illegible] government ought not perish from the earth [illegible] has won and united its friends the Derby [illegible] reverend [illegible].

There are virtually three parties [illegible] the [illegible] Liberals. The [illegible] and the [illegible] of the medieval theory [illegible] real Liberals are the hearty reformers, many [illegible] sincere Republicans—the philosophers and thinking men of the kingdom who do not linger behind steering for [illegible] Point, but strike boldly ahead and cry to the sluggards "come on! This is the way!" This party is the only one of which feudalism and monarchy need to be [illegible] for it is constantly struggling towards [illegible] government.

The House of Commons [illegible] nearly three times as many as our House of Representatives. In the late elections the Liberals [illegible] elected [illegible] counties a majority [illegible] far and a gain of 20 over the last election. This will probably be increased.

Of the members whose success is secured [illegible] John Stuart Mill, well known in America for his writings on political economy, and an ultra of the radical school; Mr. Gladstone, John Bright, Forster, Stansfield, Thomas Hughes and Ferrens. Gladstone has hitherto been chained to the corpse of the seventeenth century through Oxford, but the service which that eminent Tory institution has rendered him by refusing him its confidence has enabled him to stand for the working men of South Lancashire, where he will be free. The election of Gladstone, Mill, Bright and Thomas Hughes by the Liberals, cannot be regarded in any sense as a ministerial triumph. They will side with the administration against Derby the reactionist and D'Israeli the mystery man, yet they will not abide by the caucuses of the Palmerston party. The election was rather a victory of manhood and ability and truth over aristocracy and corruption. Mr. Mill was triumphant over two competitors, a Tory and an aristocrat Liberal, and both Mill and Hughes went before the people on their own merits, refusing to pay the large sums of money which are usually employed to secure an election. Mr. Mill said in his address to the electors that they had invited him to become a candidate because "they thought that by electing him they would assert a principle that had been ignored at Westminster up to this time—the principle of selecting representatives for some other reason than their money." They vindicated the trust and so have chosen a philosopher who will not only be thoughtful for their interests, but who will do them the more distinguished honor of thinking for himself independent of any other motive than the welfare of man.

Mr. Gladstone will be the leader of the Radicals in the Commons—a position for which he is eminently qualified. On this point let us hear the London Herald (Tory), which uttered the following prognostications before the election:

> Any considerable liberal gain would [illegible] the country with a liberal government much more likely [illegible] effect to what are called liberal principles than that which has for the last six years strived to maintain office by a judicious abstinence from all debatable measures. For though Lord Palmerston's name is the battle cry of the liberal party, it is not for Lord Palmerston that the battle is to be fought. No long time can pass before he must accept the honorable rest which he has earned by a life of most laborious service, and Mr. Gladstone must be in name, as he is in fact, the chief of the liberal party. Mr. Gladstone is deeply pledged to reform. He has asserted in the broadest terms the democratic principle of an inherent individual right to the franchise, and he could not give any satisfactory reply if challenged to show why he should not admit to the suffrage the whole body of the artisans and operatives of the towns. They are not too ignorant; they are not "politically dangerous," except by their numbers; and Mr. Gladstone has repudiated the constitutional principle of the representation of [illegible], on which alone the resistance to the wholesale enfranchisement of the most numerous classes can rest. His convictions, his vanity, his policy, [illegible] aspires to be the idol of the working classes, bind him to reform, and he would not be Premier for two years without bringing in an extensive reform bill.

Who does not see the cause of this triumph of liberal ideas in England? If George B. McClellan had been elected last year, Stuart Mill and Gladstone would have been defeated this year. So it happens that the enslaving of one man fastens a burden, less or greater, upon every man and the emancipator in any country is fighting the immortal battles of freedom for the world.

BUTTEVILLE SCHOOL EXAMINATION. We acknowledge the receipt of a very urgent request for us to attend the school examination at Butteville on the 29th inst. We should be pleased to accept of the invitation, but the responsibility devolving upon us at home will not admit of our attendance and while we tender our thanks to the numerous friends who have joined in the solicitation of our presence on that occasion, for their kindness we beg to assure them that our interests are identical with theirs. We look with hope to the future welfare, and do our utmost for the present prosperity of the glorious State so far on the frontier, and in the discharge of our duties as a journalist we wish to remember the assistance that must be obtained from our schools and academies in support of the good ship of State. It must be particularly gratifying to the eyes of citizens—by that we mean those who have chosen Oregon as their home—to look upon the advancement of our school interests. In the schools we see the true sign of progress, and in them our wise [illegible] look beyond the first crop of [illegible] may [illegible] the germ of a new civilization, the nucleus of a high and noble [illegible] as the [illegible] of our future wealth. There [illegible] the church and the printing press are the reliable instruments of civilization, and their influence is [illegible] more and more potent in the [illegible] so characterized by the poet as a place

> Where [illegible]

We should be highly gratified to attend the Butteville school on the 29th, but [illegible] with [illegible] and hence [illegible].

ARREST IN [illegible]. We learn by private letter [illegible] that an [illegible] there in the [illegible] evening [illegible] Frank [illegible] named Stanton [illegible] drunken [illegible] dangerous [illegible] pistol shot [illegible] Stanton was said to be [illegible] the neck [illegible] [illegible] him.

California News.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 20.—The Overland Telegraph is working to-day, but has been occupied with private business to the exclusion of news reports.

James Gamble, Esq., late Superintendent of the California State Telegraph Company, was last evening the recipient of a splendid testimonial from employees of that company. The testimonial consisted of a solid silver tea set of six pieces, with salver, all of which were manufactured in this city at a cost of over one thousand dollars.

Preparations are being made for James Cooke, the circus performer, to cross from the Cliff House to the Seal Rock, a distance of 450 feet, and 90 feet high, on a tight rope, after the style of Blondin. The feat will be accomplished on Sunday next.

D. L. K. Buick was brought before United States Commissioner Beastie this morning, on charge of cutting timber from Government lands in Santa Clara county. He was held to answer, with bail fixed at $5,000.

SALT LAKE, Sept. 21, 3 P. M.—The eastern line is out of order between here and Fort Laramie. There will be no report to-day.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 22d.—Private dispatches quote gold in New York on the 18th inst. at 143¾. Sterling 109½.

The trial of George B. Rich, charged with accepting a bribe while acting as a juryman on one of the Moses Frank cases, resulted in the following verdict: "The jurors in the case of the people vs. Rich, do not think him entirely innocent of the charge, but find the evidence insufficient to convict him, and consequently agree upon a verdict of not guilty."

It was Samuel Sherman and not Dr. L. K. Buick as erroneously reported in yesterday's Bulletin, who was held to bail for cutting timber on Uncle Sam's farm in Santa Clara county. Buick was the complainant in behalf of Uncle Sam.

[illegible] Ryle, 1st steward on the Oc[illegible] was yesterday held to answer by Commissioner Heustis for the charge of assaulting Wm. Wiggins, Assistant Engineer, with a carving knife while at sea.

THE COLUMBIA RIVER ROUTE

will always have its full share of [illegible] monopoly of the freight [illegible] time as the Pacific Railroad shall [illegible] Sierra Nevadas and the [illegible] of Idaho trade. As it is the people [illegible] derive [illegible] advantage [illegible] route.

The placing of a steamer on the upper waters of Snake river will materially assist our [illegible] interests as a State, for probably the heavy Spring freights could be landed at Boise City during parts of May, June and July. Owyhee goods could be landed within thirty miles of Cr[illegible] Creek with an excellent road [illegible]. Indeed Owyhee is the easiest approached by teams of all the mining districts of Idaho and is a less distance from the Columbia river than Idaho City, with a better mountain road [illegible]. There seems no obstacle to the navigation of Snake river for a long distance commencing at a point four miles above Old's Ferry at the head of the rapids there. Goods intended for South Boise, Yuba and Volcano could be landed at a point about 10 miles above Old's Ferry and thence transported over good natural roads, not over thirty five miles to Volcano, nor more than sixty five miles to South Boise. I took pains to examine into the facts as to this when in the mountains between Malheur and Snake river and I am satisfied that natural passes exist that offer much better roads than that by way of Boise City, which is exceedingly hilly.

The steamer on Snake river is already commenced and there is no doubt that the O. S. N. Co. will develop the enterprise to improve the natural advantages in their favor and so retain the great trade of Idaho upon the Columbia river route.

SCARCITY OF TIMBER IN OWYHEE.

All the districts of Idaho—save Owyhee—have abundant supplies of timber within easy reach and despite all the outcry made to the contrary Owyhee has abundance of good timber within reach for ten years to come. Lumber is now being hauled from Auburn 160 miles off and also from Boise City distant 60 miles and sold at the rate regularly charged there. The mill at Boise City receives its timber by the Boise river and a Boom Company has been organized to go into the business extensively. In time the rate of prices in Idaho will be materially lessened. There is no lack of farming land and grazing is unlimited. True the agricultural interests are not much developed, the valleys are small and desert predominates, but enough of good soil is to be had and near enough for practical purposes to [illegible] what Idaho will consume. With a decrease in the price of articles consumed will come lower rate of wages, and as the demand of Owyhee increases will the facilities at her command. Any amount of timber can be procured at merely cost of cutting it up the Boise river. It can be rafted down to its mouth, towed 50 miles up Snake river opposite Ruby City and distant only [illegible]0 miles. A saw mill can be erected there, and [illegible] Owyhee be supplied for all coming time with all the lumber it needs at a not unreasonable rate.

THE FUTURE OF IDAHO.

Having visited every important locality in southern Idaho during the past summer your correspondent has every faith in the promise of its future. Only those who have seen it can realize the extent of its mineral resources and the value of them. With at first only a partial knowledge of the country and somewhat given to the belief that its mineral resources were limited to a few localities, travel and observation have convinced me that they are great in extent and not surpassed by any of our States or Territories in value. True, speculation will enlist capital unworthy enterprises. Many will lose as well as gain, but the ultimate result will be that well conducted mining operations will succeed, and I will venture the prediction that the mines of Idaho will in time rival those of Nevada and be remembered in coming ages as are those of Mexico and Peru.

PERSONAL.

I cannot end my summer journal without a word of acknowledgment for the many kindnesses received at the hands of friends in Idaho. My connection with the press everywhere secured for me friendly greetings and kindly acts. To Mr. Reed of the Portland office of Wells, Fargo & Co. I am indebted for an introduction to their Agents in the upper country that secured me many favors and privileges not otherwise easily secured.

To the many who have laid me under obligation in Idaho, I would tender my acknowledgments and assurances of appreciation.

MEETING OF THE COMMON COUNCIL.—The [illegible] meeting of the Council [illegible] was held at [illegible] chamber last evening at [illegible] Mayor Failing presiding.

The following members were present: Messrs. [illegible] McCraken, Rosenheim, [illegible] Smith.

The minutes of the previous meeting [illegible] read and approved.

Mayor Failing sent in [illegible] ordinance without his approval [illegible] chase of the Mount [illegible] as does not specify the [illegible] are purchased except [illegible] for the same reason as assigned [illegible] authorizing the [illegible]

The ordinance was again put [illegible] by ayes Clarke and Rosenheim [illegible] Nays McCraken Starr and Schuyler [illegible]

As was the report [illegible] was also returned by the Mayor [illegible] ayes, Rosenheim [illegible] Nays Clark, McCraken, Starr and Schuyler.

Licenses to retail spirituous liquors were granted [illegible] Robebel, W. Moffit and [illegible]

The committee on ways and means [illegible] length regarding the work of dredging the Willamette river which was accepted and the [illegible] placed on file.

Warrants were authorized [illegible] appropriated [illegible] a row of claims against the [illegible] mates, meetings, [illegible] furnished the [illegible] J. M. Perry & [illegible] McAdam [illegible] Jonathan [illegible] on two blocks [illegible] furnished dredger [illegible] City Surveyor [illegible] Engine House [illegible] A. G. Hammond putting [illegible] Northrup & Co. [illegible] Estes & Stiles [illegible] J. J. Hoffman, fees as City Recorder [illegible] H. L. Hoyt, fees as City Marshal [illegible] August, [illegible] dredger [illegible]

The report of the City Recorder for July and August was taken from the table and placed on file.

Council adjourned.

HARRIETT ANDERSON HOFFERED. This unfortunate girl was released from the city jail on Thursday [illegible] the term of her commitment having expired [illegible] after having [illegible] she was found by Policeman Saunders [illegible] resting her head in her hands [illegible] He took her back to the city jail and gave [illegible] comfort. Yesterday Dr. Chapman was passing [illegible] and was called in by one of [illegible] The condition of the poor girl was [illegible] this advice to the officer [illegible] the County Judge be called upon to take her case [illegible] make an examination and have her [illegible] mitted to the asylum. She is demented [illegible] state in which she is permitted to exist [illegible] by proper treatment and attention. In this [illegible] it is well to urge upon the people of this city [illegible] of taking steps for procuring a City Hospital, or upon the people of the State the necessity [illegible] That many an unfortunate being is [illegible] jected by our county authorities on the ground that they do not belong to this County, but are temporary [illegible] dents [illegible] of the city is known, and the situation of their case is not considered sufficient reason for their support by the county in consequence of their not being citizens of the County. But a very small percentage of the [illegible] committed to the Hospital from Multnomah County are actual residents here. They come from all parts of the country, and a great necessity exists that the State should make provision for their keeping. In the case of the girl Henrietta Anderson, however, it is very certain that she should be provided for at the expense of the State, by being sent from this County to the asylum.

"A COTTAGE BY THE SEA."—All who have ever heard or sung the beautiful composition of a noted balladist known as "A Cottage by the Sea," will be [illegible] to a fine picture lately taken by Mr. Dennis [illegible] the site of the "Cottage." We have seen it and [illegible] pronounce it a most beautiful product [illegible] of the photographer's art. A scene on the [illegible] territory of the Territory side, looking to the [illegible] in the dim distance beyond, away out upon the [illegible] facing the opposite with a magnificent view of the noble river, with a snow capped mountain like [illegible] is the only picture we can paint or imagine of things about here that will compare with this [illegible] His applied art to mechanism [illegible] results. The house the mountains and [illegible] are mythical—but have an [illegible] real event, to this wise. Mr. T. D. Snyder [illegible] desirous of making some article of worth on exhibition at the State Fair constructed a paper [illegible] It was very artistically arranged but Desmond [illegible] the pupil of his active eyes once set upon it [illegible] he could improve the job—and it was taken to his [illegible] room where after the licking [illegible] a real specimen of about the "central residence" [illegible] and intends to sell somebody with it [illegible] believe it is the house of some retired [illegible] which he might well have accomplished [illegible] purpose. It is worth seeing.

[illegible]A.—Most persons, in visiting Minnesota [illegible] the term to be derived from mines within the [illegible] of the State—but finding mines of no kind until [illegible] struck coal—they soon learned their mistake [illegible] did not indicate the mine for the derivation of the term. "Minnesota," but it comes with Indian [illegible] and signifies "land of sky tinted waters." [illegible] might well be called Minnesota of late—except [illegible] water of the streets resembling the sky are [illegible] and "scum" is the word thought of. A fine [illegible] for an artist was presented along the streets yesterday morning, at places where planking had been [illegible] up, by the water standing in pools of green, yellow [illegible] from putrifying substances.

[illegible] OF THE CITY CHARTER SUSTAINED [illegible] from City Attorney Dolph intelligence that [illegible] was affirmed in the suit of Harriet King vs. [illegible] of Portland, recently taken to the Supreme [illegible] He received a private dispatch from Hon. [illegible] [illegible] the fact, yesterday which settles [illegible] arising about the unconstitutionality of the City Charter. It was considered a most singular [illegible] if the Courts of Oregon were to reverse the decisions of nearly every Court in the country on the question involved in the suit, dating from 1859 down to the present day. The city now has authority to improve her streets.

[illegible]—A few days since we made mention of the fact that [illegible] had received a quantity of ore from the [illegible] lode of Santiam to be tested at the quartz mill of A. C. Gibbs & Co. in this city. The amount was [illegible] not picked rock but of average [illegible] turned out a result of $100 per ton. An [illegible] inferior quality in which no gold was to be seen by the naked eye, shows a value of $24.75 per ton. [illegible] of the gold is evidence that the lode [illegible] A [illegible] run into a silver mine the richness [illegible] cannot very well be questioned.

[illegible] FOR THE PACIFIC.—The commercial reporter [illegible] says that the screw steamer Montana [illegible] the way from New York to this coast, will be employed by the Pacific Mail Steamship Company in the [illegible] between San Francisco and Panama. The New York Journal of Commerce states that several [illegible] are soon to be constructed in the Atlantic for the coasting trade of California and Oregon.

[illegible] OF WATCHES.—The watches of the unfortunate [illegible] lost by the sinking of the steamship Brother Jonathan, so far as found, we are told, were all stopped within twenty minutes of each other, except [illegible] by Mr. Wall, which was an extra fine watch and [illegible] hours longer than the others. The time indicated was from three to twenty minutes past three showing that the average movement of the watches under the water was from four to five hours.

Wells, Fargo & Co	$160 00
Ladd & Tilton	[illegible]
[illegible] Bros	[illegible]
Bank British Columbia	[illegible]
Other parties	[illegible]
Total	[illegible]

[illegible] IN CAMP.—The choppers on lands near [illegible] having built shelter for themselves for the winter [illegible] away with their camp fixtures on Thursday [illegible] the authorities [illegible] and their cabins were [illegible] A man named [illegible] was hurt in the row [illegible] in the trouble, but understand [illegible] lodged at the Marshal's office [illegible] the whole matter to light.

[illegible] OVERBOARD.—The lofty [illegible] erected [illegible] company last year from [illegible] suspended wire across the Willamette river, was yesterday morning [illegible] into the water [illegible] The electric current [illegible] now travels among the [illegible] lying three upon its banks.

[illegible] INSTITUTE. The Mechanics' [illegible] this evening at [illegible] Parrish [illegible] The objects of the association [illegible] of the mechanics of the city [illegible] diffusion of social feeling [illegible] should be [illegible]

[illegible] OF FRUIT. The steamer leaving last [illegible] took about 1,200 boxes of apples for San Francisco [illegible] boxes for Victoria, besides an amount [illegible] for the last named port.

BETTING AT A DEAD MAN.—The New Orleans [illegible] speaks of the dangers that would result from the policy of Messrs. Parker [illegible] Phillips [illegible] &c. in respect to the negroes of the South.

IN REGARD TO DOMESTIC MANUFACTURES. The census [illegible] that the [illegible] in 1860 [illegible] New England [illegible] Middle States [illegible] Western States [illegible] Southern States [illegible] from Lincoln [illegible]

In the manufacture of woolen goods [illegible] per cent [illegible] New England, in the Middle States, nothing but hundredths per cent; Western States, forty hundredths per cent; Southern States, a hundred and forty three per cent [illegible] The States of Oregon and California are reported in the returns at two hundred and thirty two thousand dollars as the total manufacture of woolen goods. The total increase in the States and Territories is forty two per cent or forty three millions two hundred [illegible] thousand two hundred and eight dollars. All the States show an increase except New York, Delaware, Ohio, Michigan and Illinois. The only State in which there is no returns for the manufacture of woolen goods is Arkansas.

GUERRILLAS.—We report that [illegible] every person who [illegible] guerrillas [illegible] living without mercy. Surely men [illegible] such guerrillas [illegible] murderers [illegible] excitement [illegible] struggle and desperate [illegible] murders never [illegible] wrong to the human family.

JOHN MINOR BOTTS. This loyal Virginian who remained firm to the Union through all the howling tempest of secession while men of less nerve and faith in the Government crouched and hid, or were swept into the current [illegible] was recently in New York city on his way to Saratoga. It is announced that Mr. Botts has written a history of the rebellion. As he of course [illegible] going before the struggle commenced and was acquainted with its leaders their plottings and designs the book will no doubt be [illegible] with great interest.

Colonel Parker who [illegible] upon [illegible] Grant, is a pure Seneca Indian and a grandson of the celebrated Red Jacket, Chief of the Six Nations. He is a large robust man, at least six feet in height. On his breast may be seen the broad silver medal presented to his distinguished ancestor by General Jackson.

SOZODONT.—An article that is at once a teeth preserver and breath purifier, and yet so pleasant and convenient to use its exceeding popularity does not surprise any one. Time has fully established the fact that the Sozodont possesses these excellent qualities in an eminent degree. It has legitimately acquired the right to a position upon every toilet table.

Brandreth's Vegetable Pills.—This medicine, for its curing efficacy, is justly prized as a curative for all disorders of the stomach and bowels, the common symptoms of which are costiveness, spasms, loss of appetite, sick headache, giddiness, sense of bloating after meals, dizziness of the eyes, drowsiness and cramping in the stomach and bowels. These symptoms bring and tend to retain a torpid state of the liver superinduced and all the horrors of dyspepsia are experienced. Every function of the frame is to a certain extent prostrated. But a little perseverance in the use of BRANDRETH'S PILLS will restore the system from this state of misery. Two or three doses will convince the afflicted of their salutary influence. The stomach will readily regain its strength, a healthy action of the liver will soon take place, and instead of listlessness, heat, pain and jaundiced appearance, activity, strength and renewed health will be the blessed result. Brandreth's Pills are sold at 25 cents a box, enveloped in full directions. Purchase none unless my private Government stamp is on the box. See upon it B. Brandreth in white letters.

CONSUMPTION.

There is scarcely one individual in the community who wholly escapes, during a season, from some one, however slightly developed, of the above symptoms—a neglect of which might lead to the last named, and most to be dreaded disease in the whole catalogue. The power of "medicinal gum" of the Wild Cherry Tree over this class of complaints is well known; so great is the good it has performed, and so great the popularity it has acquired.

In this preparation, besides the virtues of the Cherry there are commingled with it other ingredients of like value, thus increasing its value ten fold, and forming a Remedy whose power to soothe, to heal, to relieve, and to cure disease exists in no other medicine yet discovered.

The unequalled [illegible] that has attended the application of this medicine in all cases of has induced many physicians of high [illegible] to employ it in their practice, some of whom advise us of the fact under their own signatures. We have space only for the names of a few of these:—

The Andersonville Prison Pen

A HISTORY OF HORRORS—HOW UNION SOLDIERS WERE MURDERED

The following statement, made by a Georgia planter who was a witness to many of the outrages and cruelties suffered by Union prisoners at the hands of Winder and Wertz in the Andersonville prison pen, is published in the New York Post. His testimony is entitled to the fullest credit, as it undoubtedly comes from Ambrose Spencer, of Americus, Georgia, son of the late Ambrose Spencer, of New York. Mr. Spencer was in New York city [illegible] to Washington to bear witness against Capt. Wertz. He has been a Union man during the whole war, and living in the neighborhood of Andersonville, has had many opportunities to render kind services to the Union prisoners confined at that place. Mr. Spencer says:

The prison of Andersonville is a stockade of about 18 feet high, the posts comprising it being sunk in the ground five feet; it originally comprised an area of 18 acres, but was subsequently enlarged to 27 acres. The inclosure is upon the side of a hill, looking toward the south, at the foot of which is a small brook about five feet wide and as many inches deep, which furnished the water for the use of the prisoners. Within the inclosure were turned the prisoners as they arrived, and left to provide for themselves, there being no shelter, or arbors, or any kind of protection afforded by trees or otherwise against the burning rays of the southern sun, the furious storms or the freezing winters.

The position was selected by Capt. Winder, a son of Gen. John H. Winder, who was sent from Richmond for that purpose in the latter part of 1863. When it was suggested to him by a disinterested but humane spectator of his operations that it would perhaps be better to leave the trees standing within the proposed stockade, as they would afford shade to the prisoners, he replied:

"That was just what he was not going to do. He was going to make a pen for the —— Yankees, where they could rot faster than they could be sent there." And admirably did he accomplish his mission!

The first commandant of the post was Colonel Persons, who was soon succeeded by John H. Winder, with his son as Adjutant, his nephew as Commissary and sutler, and Henry Wertz in immediate command of the prisoners. There were generally stationed there for guard duty from three to six regiments of infantry, with one company of artillery, having a battery of six pieces, according to the exigencies of the case, the number of prisoners then confined, or the fears entertained of an attempt to set them at liberty by raiding parties of United States troops.

When prisoners were first received it was usual to subject them to a search for money, valuables, etc., which were ostensibly to be restored when they were released from captivity, but which in reality went into the pockets of those who controlled the prison. Notwithstanding a law of the Confederacy expressly prohibited the dealing in "greenbacks," yet the faithful, a few whose "loyalty" was unquestioned, could always obtain for a consideration the greenbacks they required.

The writer of this was the foreman of the last grand jury which were empanneled for Sumner county, Ga., and in the performance of his duties he had to investigate a large number of presentments for dealing in the forbidden currency, which was brought against poor Union men in every instance. Struck by this fact, he resolved to examine, as his position gave him a right to do, into all the circumstances: where the money originally came from, who did the selling of it, indeed the whole modus operandi, and he elicited the fact above stated, how the money was obtained, that the Winders and Wertz were the principals, acting through subordinates, in gathering bushels of plums, in the way of premiums, etc. Meanwhile the prisoners were left to the tender mercies of their jailor and commissary for their food, which might have been improved in quantity at least, if their money had been left in their own possession.

At first it was customary to send a wagon into the stockade every morning at 10 o'clock, loaded with rations of the day—bacon and corn bread, nothing else; but as the number of prisoners increased and the greed and gain grew upon the trio above-mentioned, the corn-bread was reduced in its quality, being then manufactured of equal proportions of ground field peas and corn, unbolted, unsifted, uncleansed, indeed, from the dirt and trash which peas naturally accumulate; and at last, when the number of prisoners increased to over 37,000, the meat rations per week were reduced to a piece of bacon for each man about three inches long and two wide, with one pone of the bread above described per day. Then, also, the custom of carrying the prisoners' food into the stockades with wagons was abolished. They drove up to the gates, which were slightly opened, and the scanty food, foul and unhealthy as it was, was thrown inside by the guard, to be scrambled for by the wretched prisoners, the strongest, and those nearest the gate, getting the largest share, the weak and sickly getting none.

I have mentioned the small brook which runs through the lower part of the stockade, and which supplied the water for drinking and washing. This brook has its rise in a swamp not far from the prison, and at no time, certainly not for a lengthened period, was the water suitable or healthy; but when the feces and filth, the drainage of the whole camp of prisoners, came to be superadded to the natural unfitness of the water for drinking or cleansing purposes, my readers can judge what thirst was assuaged, or fever cooled, or throbbing temples washed, by this floating stream of filth and disease! At any time, under the most rigid hygienic restrictions, it is difficult to maintain health and cleanliness among a large body of men—what do you think was the condition of 37,000 half naked, half starved men, without any police regulations, under no moral or restraining influences? If the remnant who were finally allowed to pass out of this military Golgotha were not wild beasts, unwashed, befouled devils, no thanks are to be given to Henry Wertz for lack of effort to produce such a consummation.

When it rained, as it does in that climate almost continuously during the Spring and Fall months, the soil within the enclosure was one mass of loblolly, soft mud, at least 15 inches in depth, through which stalked and staggered the gaunt, half-clad wretches thus confined. The stench from the prison could be perceived for two miles, and farmers in the neighborhood began to fear for the health of their families. As a consequence of this, the hospitals—[illegible] was Wertz in his horrible humanity [illegible]—crowded to repletion with the emaciated, starved and diseased men who were trundled into them.

The hospitals were constructed of logs unhewed, the interstices unfilled and open, admitting the rain, without floors, cots, bunks or blankets, filthy and fetid with the festering, putrid bodies of the sick, the dying and the dead. Words fail language is impotent to describe one of those dens of disease and death. I once mustered the courage, impelled by the earnest entreaties of a Northern friend, to enter one of them, to visit one who was tenderly reared, and walked in the best ranks of Connecticut society. I believe I had seen before this what I deemed to be human wretchedness in its worst forms. I thought that I could nerve myself to witness mortal agony and wretchedness and destitution as I had heard it described without blanching or trembling. But if the condensed horrors of a hundred "black holes" had been brought before my mind to prepare me for the ordeal, they would have failed to realize the facts as I saw them face to face.

I cannot, in a daily paper read by innocence and virtue, detail what met my sight on the occasion I refer to. I will not pollute any page, save the records of the courts that must try the culprit for the crime of torture by disease and filth, with the details of that caravansary of horrible, intentional slaughter. For fear that some may think I have exaggerated, an episode here will, perhaps, dispell such illusion. Convicted by the incredible fact that was a stench in his nostrils, Gen. Winder, then Commissary General of Prisons, but having his headquarters at Andersonville, was forced by decency, not humanity, for this he himself asserted—to ask the aid of the Presiding Elder of the Methodist Church of that circuit to adopt some means to alleviate the miseries and soothe the wretchedness of the poor inmates of that Andersonville hospital. This gentleman invoked the co-operation of the women of Sumter county, who responded with clothing and necessaries only for those alone are allowed, to the amount of [illegible] wagon loads. Upon the day appointed four ladies, accompanied by their husbands, went to the prison and sought from the Provost Marshal a pass to take their benefactions to the sick prisoners. It was refused with a curse! The party proceeded to Winder's headquarters, where Henry Wertz was in company with the General. The demand for a pass was repeated. Understand, the ladies were present, and the reasons given why the party were there, in accordance with Winder's special request. To their astonishment they were met with this reply: "[illegible] you all turn Yankees here?"

"No, General," responded the spokesman of the party. "I am not, as you know, nor are any here present; we have come, as you requested us, through Rev. Mr. D[illegible], to bring necessary articles for the Federal hospital, and ask a pass for the purpose of delivering them."

"It's a d—d lie! I never gave permission for anything of the kind! Be off with you all of you!"

As if this fearless display of martial valor and gentlemanly bearing was not sufficient, Henry Wertz essayed to add [illegible] his teachers in profanity and indecency, and I here assert that if I [illegible] of this city were present they would not surpass the ribald vulgarity and foul-mouthed profanity of this tailor exhibited in the presence of refined and [illegible] ladies.

Shocked, terrified and beaten in the very dust with efforts to succor the sick or alleviate the tortures of the dying Union soldier, they gave their loads of clothing and food to a passing column of Federal prisoners on their way to another place—Millen. They at least had the satisfaction of knowing that some were benefitted, even if they had failed in their efforts for those who most needed their assistance.

During the last winter, which was unusually cold for Georgia, when the [illegible] made an inch thick, no shelter, no blankets or clothes, no wood was provided for the wretched inmates of that prison. Squads were permitted to the number of thirty, to go, under guard daily, for one hour, without axes or any cutting tool, to gather the refuse and rotted wood in the forests; and if they outstayed their time they were tried by drum head court martial, charged with violating their parole, and if found guilty, were hung. I myself saw three bodies hanging who were thus executed. Poor fellows! Ere night, God has taken pity upon you and given you deliverance from your cruel jailor. When you and he meet at another judgment seat, woe to him if his authority be found insufficient for this taking of your lives, wretched though they be.

My house was the resort, or I should say refuge of most of the prisoners who made their escape from the stockade, and the tales of starvation and distress which they told would have melted an iron heart. I must close my hurried account of what I had seen. It is far from full; not one half has been told; by far the most has been kept back from very shame, and in respect to your readers. I have not embellished. The pictures were too rough, the characters too forlorn for the flowers of rhetoric to bloom in their presence. Broken hearts, crushed spirits and manhood trampled on, may answer as fitting subjects for the romancer's pen, but the horrible reality, so seldom seen, burns its images upon the beholder's soul, that no other impressions can efface, and they remain life-like pictures indeed.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

WEEKLY REVIEW.

PORTLAND, September 23d, 1865.

During the week about to close there has been a very large amount of business transacted in commercial circles. We have to note the arrival of three clipper ships and the regular steamer from San Francisco, bringing full cargoes of assorted merchandise. A larger supply of groceries, sugars, teas, coffee, etc., is now on hand than has been for many months in the market, and the importers have received larger additions than usual to their stocks of hardware, iron, steel, boots and shoes than for any previous week since the foundation of business in Portland. Much of the goods coming forward the past week are from the manufactories direct, but having laid in San Francisco for some time, shippers accepted of the opportunities to get them here at lessened freight rates, incident to the opposition of the Live Yankee. The three vessels in port all left at about the same time, and have all carried freight at reduced rates. At the time the Sam. Merritt took her departure there was no vessel of the regular line to take her berth at the wharf, but since then the W. H. Sessions, Helen W. Almy and Jane A. Falkinburg have arrived there, all of which will be speedily dispatched. Three steamers have left San Francisco for the Columbia river since our last report. The Sierra Nevada, which arrived on Friday night, leaves to-day via Victoria. The Active is expected to-morrow, and will henceforward continue in the trade to Victoria from this port, and a Government steamer is expected at Fort Vancouver on Tuesday next.

It is a matter of regret that Oregon is not, at this time, sufficiently able to supply full cargoes for all the outward going crafts engaged in the trade. We are producers in respect, but not great enough to maintain a commerce of any large amount. It is asserted that this is the most positive argument to dissuade direct trade from foreign and Atlantic supply ports to the Columbia river. We incline to the opinion, however, that if our leading importers would combine for the purpose of attracting vessels direct from the east to this port, foreign vessels would soon follow. In case we had ships to dispatch to the Atlantic side, it would be no long time for foreign countries to learn that in Portland there was a demand for their cargoes, and by littles we might be enabled to build up a commerce; but unless the movement is made of course these results will not work themselves out.

Shipments of grain and flour is now an unknown thing, but receipts from California are quite large of the last-named commodity.

The money and stock market remains inactive and furnishes us with nothing new or interesting, of a local nature to report.

In reading the latest monetary articles that have come to hand, we glean the following matters of general interest:

The production of wealth throughout the world goes on with such a rapid pace, so many new and fertile tracts of land are brought within reach of central markets, so many old disabilities are removed from fertile tracts in Europe, so many old restrictions upon commerce are abolished, so many new mechanical contrivances are applied to industry, so many new combinations of art and science facilitate production, and the restless power of steam so universally activates all species of employment, that the general wealth grows and accumulates in volumes beyond the wildest dreams of the financiers of the last century. The amount of surplus capital that annually seeks investment is now at least $100 where it was $1 thirty years since. With that increase there has been barely a proportionate increase of the means of investment, vast as these means have become. In England the rate of money continues low, yet the calls for investments in new companies in the first six months of 186[illegible] reach $450,000,000, for companies in banking, commercial, railroad, bridge, mining, carrying, gas, telegraph, banking and improvements, iron, etc. Most of these companies are productive, and swell the future volume of money seeking investment. But perhaps of all the wonders that displayed by the United States is the greatest. In the year 1842, the Federal Treasury was destitute, and a loan of $5,000,000 was authorized. There were no takers, and the administration of John Tyler sent an agent to Europe to sell that loan, or a portion of it. He failed utterly; no one would lend a dollar. In 1864, twenty years after, the United States raised by loan $1,000,000,000, without asking Europe for a dollar. If so immense a supply of securities suddenly created, staggers the market for a moment, the amazing energy with which the production of wealth will be resumed will soon restore the equilibrium.

There appears to be a wide difference of opinion with regard to the period when specie payments will be reached. It is said that in a private letter to a gentleman in New York city, recently, Secretary McCulloch spoke in the most encouraging terms of his position and prospects, not anticipating the slightest difficulty in meeting all his obligations promptly, and expressing the hope of an early return to specie payments. Yet many merchants in the East are said to be acting on the theory that the normal basis of hard currency will not be resumed for years, and are shaping their business course accordingly. But in view of the fact that the present monetary system in the Atlantic States is fraught with so much inconvenience, we cannot doubt that a powerful effort will be made at an early period to replace it with the old system. An examination of the question would seem to indicate that the dangers connected with so large a debt are more apparent than real. When Great Britain closed her protracted war with Napoleon, she was obliged to increase her debt from £2,800,000,000 to $1,200,000,000 to [illegible] the discount upon consols, while our debt has been funded at par, and although we may have paid some $800,000,000 for war materials, etc., beyond specie prices, our finances when the rebellion closed are in a better shape than were those of Great Britain at the period spoken of. Our debt is funded, and we have some $55,000,000 in gold and $80,000,000 in greenbacks or their equivalent in the Treasury. The highest estimates for the national expenses, to meet debts and current due, are made. For the last half of the current year, are but $180,000,000.

To meet this we have on hand	$[illegible]
Duties on imports now collected at New York at the rate of $2,800,000 per week, in gold, for six months	75,000,000
One third of that amount in other cities, in gold	[illegible]
Estimated income tax due in August	50,000,000
Internal revenue at the rate of $20,000,000 per month, exclusive of income tax	120,000,000
Proceeds from sale of gold and sales of cotton and property	11,000,000
	$[illegible]

We have thus without borrowing anything an amount equal to our disbursements of $[illegible]. But the Secretary of the Treasury has power to put one fifth of his legal certificates of indebtedness, which leaves a margin of $100,000,000 at his disposal, with the right to fill any other securities to a large amount, and to exceed if he borrow from $100,000,000 to $300,000,000 [illegible] [illegible] with the Government [illegible]. It seems [illegible] that with the [illegible] the currency [illegible] will [illegible] of all kinds of [illegible] and a good harvest without the [illegible] we could find return to specie payments.

Domestic Produce Market.

PORTLAND, September [illegible], 1865.

Farmers appear to be holding back for higher prices, being stimulated by last year's [illegible] of the same season; but whether it will be as profitable [illegible] speculation than some of the transactions [illegible]. The prices of grain must be regulated by the demand for export. And we are at present [illegible] the importation in holding back. The season here is now far enough advanced for the supply to be furnished from our own crop. From our exchanges we are lead to infer that there is little hope for a large export demand. It is said that in Great Britain and Ireland the crops are more abundant than for many years. France has but a light crop, and shipments to Havre or Marseilles may take place shortly, but this could not possibly affect Oregon. California is our principal market in consequence of her poor crop [illegible] and Australia, and should there be no particular demand in those quarters the prices here must remain low in proportion to the last year, and we shall have to depend almost solely on the demand from mining camps, which at present writing is being supplied, though thinly, by California.

The roads have been getting very bad under the unfavorable weather of the past few days, and there is but a small quantity of produce offered for sale here. Buyers are paying the following prices to-day:

Wheat, new, for milling ⅌ bushel	[illegible] 1 00
Oats bushel	[illegible]
Corn meal ⅌ 100 lbs	6 00a 7 [illegible]

FRENCH MEDICAL OFFICE,

FOR THE

CURE OF SPECIAL DISEASES,

ARMORY HALL BUILDING,

Northeast Corner Montgomery and Sacramento streets,

ENTRANCE ON EITHER MONTGOMERY OR SACRAMENTO STREET.

DR. PERRAULT CONTINUES TO TREAT PRIVATE AND CHRONIC COMPLAINTS, SCROFULA, NERVOUS DEBILITY, DISEASES OF THE BLOOD, SPERMATORRHŒA, IMPOTENCE, STERILITY.

DR. PERRAULT is a Graduate of the University of Queen's College, and is the ONLY REGULAR GRADUATE who practices as a SPECIALIST in San Francisco.

DR. PERRAULT will cure all who are afflicted with Nervous Debility, Loss of Memory and Vigor, etc., resulting from injurious habits contracted in youth, or excesses in maturity, which produce constitutional debility and premature decline.

It is a melancholy fact that thousands fall victims to disease owing to unskillful treatment and improper use of Mercury.

All cases of Gonorrhea, Gleet, Strictures, Diseases of the Bladder, Gravel, Spermatorrhea, and Impotency will be cured in a few days, without prevention from business.

To the Ladies.

Ladies suffering from Whites, Falling of the Womb, Suppression of the Menses, or Profuse Flowing, Costiveness, Piles, Weakness of the Back, Pain in the side, Headache, Palpitation, and all other diseases to which the female system is subjected, will find prompt relief by addressing themselves to DR. PERRAULT, corner Sacramento and Montgomery streets. Private entrance on Sacramento street.

To those seeking our advice a plain statement of their case will be given, whether curable or not. All cases taken under treatment warranted. No charges for advice. No poisons or harsh medicines to injure the constitution; no making sick to make well. Honest in our dealings, frank in our opinions, moderate in our charges. We invite investigation, claim not to know everything, nor to cure everybody, but do claim to reason and common sense, and to cure eight out of ten pronounced incurable.

We particularly request those who have tried this Doctor and that scientific Physician, boasted and advertised, till worn out and discouraged, to call upon us. It will cost nothing, as consultations are free.

N. B.—Persons at a distance can be cured at home by addressing a letter to DR. PERRAULT, stating their case as minutely as possible, general habits of living, occupation, etc. Letters to be addressed J. PERRAULT, M. D., corner Sacramento and Montgomery streets, Rooms 10 and 11, or Box 973, Post Office, San Francisco.

DR. PERRAULT still retains the agency of DR. BIOT'S FEMALE MONTHLY PILLS. Their immense sale has established their reputation as the only safe and effectual remedy for all irregularities and obstructions in females, no matter from what cause. On receipt of five dollars, these pills will be sent by Mail or Express to any part of the world, secure from curiosity or damage. se22dlm

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM!

The Remedy for Curing

CONSUMPTION, COUGHS, COLDS,

Asthma, Croup,

Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppression of the Chest and Lungs, Difficult Breathing and all the Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

ITS ACTION IS EXPECTORANT, ALTERATIVE, SUDORIFIC, SEDATIVE, DIAPHORETIC AND DIURETIC, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. It excites expectoration, and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus; CHANGES THE SECRETIONS AND PURIFIES THE BLOOD; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect, that it is WARRANTED TO BREAK UP THE MOST DISTRESSING COUGH IN A FEW HOURS' TIME, if not of too long standing. IT IS WARRANTED to give entire satisfaction even in the MOST CONFIRMED CASES OF CONSUMPTION. IT IS WARRANTED NOT to produce costiveness (which is the case with most remedies) or affect the head, as it contains no Opium in any form. IT IS WARRANTED TO BE PERFECTLY HARMLESS to the most delicate child, although it is an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system. THERE IS NO REAL NECESSITY FOR SO MANY DEATHS BY CONSUMPTION, when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it if only taken in time.
